Everyone knows that property taxes are too high. But Governor Paterson's proposed 'Tax Cap' gimmick is not the right solution.

They tried this scheme in California, Massachusetts and Illinois and the consequences were devastating.

The gimmick led to billions of dollars in education cuts, overcrowded classrooms and fired teachers.

And here in New York, Paterson's scheme won't even cut our property taxes.

There is a better way. Albany should make the wealthiest one percent pay their fair share and cut property taxes for the rest of us.

Property taxes are a very serious problem, but hurting schools is the wrong answer.

Paid for by the Working Families Party.
